Overview

The Multi Strategy Alternative Fund ('Fund') 2 is classified as a hedge fund in accordance with the Australian Securities and Investments Commission ('ASIC') Regulatory Guide 240 'Hedge funds: Improving disclosure'. The Fund is an open-ended, unlisted, managed investment scheme, which has been registered with ASIC. The Fund has invested substantially all of its assets in the Wellington Fund, which is designed for investors seeking a total return outperforming the ICE BofA 3-Month US Treasury Bill Index Hedged into AUD (net of fees) over a full market cycle (approximately 5 – 7 years).

Wellington Management Company LLP ("Wellington"), a private Delaware limited liability partnership, is the investment manager of Wellington Custom Defensive Alternatives Fund (the "Wellington Fund"), a US Dollar-denominated, Cayman Islands exempted company. The Wellington Fund is a multi-strategy fund offering access to a range of investment approaches. This includes, but is not limited to, buying and selling equities and bonds, currencies, convertible securities, commodities and derivative products. This includes both long and short positions.

Specialised Private Capital Ltd trading as Centric Capital ("Centric Capital") is the responsible entity, manager and issuer of units in the Fund.

Since June 2023, BetaShares Capital Ltd ("Betashares") has been appointed as the currency hedging manager for the Fund. BetaShares is a leading manager of ETFs and other funds that are traded on the Australian Securities Exchange, including a range of currency-hedged funds. As at 30 June 2025, BetaShares managed over $50 billion in assets.

Liquidity Profile (%)<sup>3</sup>

The Liquidity Profile below is the representation of asset liquidity (% of assets in the Wellington Fund that can be liquidated within stated time period).

< 7 days	< 30 days	< 60 days	< 90 days	> 90 days
45	65	85	100	100

The Fund has been established with the purpose of offering investors indirect exposure to the Wellington Fund.

The Fund's ability to meet withdrawal requests is substantially dependent on the Fund's ability to redeem from the Wellington Fund, and, therefore, the Wellington Fund's ability to withdraw/redeem from its investments in the Wellington Fund investments. The Fund's withdrawal procedures reflect the characteristics (in particular the required time period for redemptions) of the Wellington Fund, and the Wellington Fund's redemption process reflects the Wellington Fund Investments' withdrawal/redemption terms.

The Fund's Constitution provides that investors may request to redeem units held in the Fund at their Net Asset Value with at least 24 days' prior written notice to Centric Capital before month end. The Fund's Constitution also provides that the payment for redemption requests must be made within 35 days of the date on which the Trustee accepts the redemption request. However, Centric Capital will typically aim to make redemption payments as soon as practicable after receiving redemption payments in respect of a redemption from the Wellington Fund.

For aggregate redemptions of less than 40% of the Fund's Net Asset Value as of a redemption date, Centric Capital intends to accept redemption requests with at least 7 days' written notice before the month end redemption date and aims to make payments within 30 days of such redemption date. All redemption requests may be accepted or rejected by Centric Capital in its sole discretion.

Under the Fund's Constitution, Centric Capital may waive in part or full the requirement for 24 days' prior written notice to Centric Capital in respect of redemption requests. Centric Capital may exercise this right for the purpose of netting-off payments in relation to redemption requests against application money received in relation to new investments.

Under the Fund's Constitution, Centric Capital may suspend consideration of withdrawal requests (or payment of the redemption price in respect of accepted redemption requests) if it is not possible, or not in the best interests of investors for it to process the request or make the payment due to one or more circumstances outside of its control (such as the Wellington Fund suspending redemptions of Wellington Fund units). If withdrawals are suspended, investors may not be able to withdraw their funds within the usual period on request.

<sup>3</sup> As at 30 June 2025. Excludes cash reserved for operational expenses coverage and line of credit (see Leverage Ratio).

Among other things, the Wellington Fund is entitled to suspend the calculation of the net asset value of the Wellington Fund units, the issuance of Wellington Fund Shares, the redemption of Wellington Fund units by unitholders of the Wellington Fund and the payment of redemption proceeds. In the event that the Wellington Fund declares any such suspension, Centric Capital will also consider declaring such a suspension in regard to the Fund.

Leverage Ratio: The Fund does not use leverage.

The Wellington Fund may borrow on a secured or unsecured basis in order to:

- (i) address timing mismatches between inflows and outflows of capital to and from the Fund, and any other investors in the Wellington Fund (if any), in connection with:
  - a. investor subscriptions and redemptions,
  - b. the Wellington Fund's investment activities, and
  - c. the payment of fees, expenses and other obligations of the Wellington Fund in the ordinary course of business; and/or
- (ii) engage in market (not currency) hedging transactions. This borrowing may, at times, be material.

The Wellington Fund Investments will from time to time employ leverage, both for speculative and hedging purposes, in a wide variety of ways, including purchasing instruments with borrowed funds, investing and trading in futures contracts, options on futures, options on securities, forward contracts, swaps and other derivative instruments, as well as short selling.

There generally is no formal limitation on the amount of leverage that a Wellington Fund Investment may use, and Centric Capital does not have a policy on leverage use by underlying investment managers. However, it is generally expected that the Wellington Fund will borrow up to 25% of its net asset value.

Derivatives and Counterparties

The Fund does use derivatives for the purpose of currency hedging only.

The Fund intends to hedge the substantial portion of the US dollar exposure of the Fund to the Australian dollar through the use of spot and forward foreign exchange contracts. However, the hedging ratio can be between 0% and 100% of the US dollar exposure of the Fund. The most current target hedge ratio can be found in the monthly reports located on Centric Capital's website. The average target hedge ratio was 100% over FY25.

In the Fund, the derivative counterparty engaged through Betashares, the currency hedging manager, for the 12-month period to 30 June 2025 was JP Morgan Chase Sydney. This engagement consisted of over-the-counter (OTC) derivatives (spot and forward foreign exchange contracts). Wellington Fund may from time to time cause the Wellington Fund to engage in market hedging transactions; for example, by purchasing or selling securities or derivatives with the intent of reducing certain exposures. Wellington Fund shall not engage in any currency hedging with respect to the Wellington Fund.

The Wellington Fund Investments may use derivatives or other sophisticated financial instruments to manage risk or to gain exposure to investments. These will differ between Wellington Fund Investments.

The Wellington Fund Investments are permitted to hold and trade derivatives (either exchange traded or over the counter), which may be used either for speculative or hedging purposes. The Wellington Fund Investments can employ derivatives in a wide variety of ways including investing and trading in:

- options on both securities and futures;
- swap contracts (including interest swaps, credit default swaps for single issuers, credit default swaps on indices, currency swaps, inflation swaps and total return swaps);
- futures and forwards contracts (including foreign exchange contracts and interest futures);
and
- other derivative instruments.

As market conditions change, the types of securities held by the Wellington Fund Investments may vary significantly from those that they currently hold. Wellington and each Investment Manager of each Wellington Fund Investment may modify their use of derivatives if they determine that doing so might better achieve the investment objective of the Wellington Fund or the relevant Wellington Fund Investment, as relevant.
